NAB likely would have been able to accomplish this task within the time allowed for comments, but for the occurrence of the week-long NAB annual convention which ends only the day before comments are due. NAB staff are fully engaged in the time before and during the convention in preparing for the Law and Regulation Conference that is held as part of the convention and would have great difficulty in preparing comments to be filed by the date called for. In addition, many broadcast lawyers who likely will be preparing comments in response to the Notice for individual television clients will be attending the convention.

NAB, therefore, requests this brief extension of time to permit the Association to prepare industry positions and comments responsive to the very important issues raised by the Commission's Notice.

Wherefore, NAB requests that the time for filing comments in this proceeding be extended to May 7, 1993 and the time for reply comments to June 7, 1993.

Respectfully submitted,

NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF BROADCASTERS 1771 N Street, N.W. Washington, D.C. 20036
